Have you set your New Year's goals yet?

If not, it's not too late to write down some New Year's resolutions. And if you're the kind of person I think you are, you're not going to want to let another day of this New Year pass by without getting this done ASAP!

Nothing becomes dynamic until it first becomes specific. And this couldn't be more true than when it comes to making this next year, better than last.

And I would say that strategic goal planning can make a 200% to 1000% difference in your outcome this year!

Of all the simple things you could do to start your year off, DON'T overlook this!

It may be simple, or even common knowledge (goal setting may be, but strategic goal planning is not common knowledge) but it is NOT common practice! And success comes from putting into practice what most people don't or won't do.

Below, I've written down a few things that have my personal attention for this next year. Maybe they'll help you come up with your goals too.

Okay, here we go.

This list is not all inclusive or in any particular order. Like I said, these are just some of the questions I quickly wrote down for myself and thought I would share with you.

This type of strategic goal setting and planning has helped Dani and I build more than one multi-million dollar business; I'm sure it will help you too!

Sit down with a pen and paper and be willing to invest some time, maybe even a few hours going through these questions below and coming up with your own answers.

It may be the most valuable thing you do this entire new year and skipping over this lightly could cost you greatly (more than you think)!

BE AS SPECIFIC AS POSSIBLE!!!

What kind of investments do you want to make for the new year?

Should you be making preparations for more self reliant living during an era of unstable political and economic certainty? If so, how and what is your plan?

What if these hard times arrive sooner than you think? (The "party" (especially in America) of economic growth and prosperity by debt and consumption cannot go on forever and has had its wake up call - it must come to an end and when it does, there will be one heck of a hangover that will be felt around the world - this as you know is now happening, but its not over yet).

What is it you fear or avoid most that you know you should be doing, that you will overcome by walking in faith with God's help this new year?

How will you stretch your faith this year?

After reviewing the above, list the top 3 goals you have. These should be the 3 things that you feel will have the biggest impact in your life and in the life of those around you. They are the top 3 things you should be focused on for 80% of the year. What are they? Write them down and post them somewhere you will read them daily.

Well, that should give you a good start. Feel free to add some of your own thoughts and questions too. Some will be easy to answer, others not. But if you take the time to do this, and immediately begin walking in faith towards your goals, I promise that this year will be a much more fulfilling year of growth for you! Just a little bit of time invested right now can have a dramatic affect on your results by the end of the year.

May God bless and prosper you and your business!

Hans Johnson
CEO, Call To Freedom International

P.S. I can't urge you enough to stop whatever you are doing right now and answer these questions. Taking just a little bit of time now can mean the difference of 200%, 300%, 400% or more increase in this New Year! Do it now.
